The New York Herald is authority for this: "A Taunton (Mass.) girl, a news dispatch says, wants, $5,000 for a hug. The price is prohibitive." It is not stated whether the Taunton girl is pretty enough to drive a man to embezzlement.

Mexico is boasting of her unprecedented prosperity. Bah! The idea of a prosperity that evidently has been brought about by good rains and the industry of Mexico's toilers as contemptiously contrasted with "Republican prosperity" over here whether we take a snooze by our job or not.

If the robbery of depositors and stockholders by bank officers continues on its present scale there will soon be some lynchings not for the "usual crime." The bank officer who robs the widow and orphan of their savings in order to revel in the devilry of wine, women and gambling isn't much too good for hanging.

It is more than probable that Roosevelt has reached the pinnacle of his popularity; and that he may be a shattered idol two years hence. Cleveland attained the zenith of his popularity in 1892. But, with all his ability and honesty of purpose, he had well night lost it all when he retired from public life in 1897.

Many a man who has a yearning pity for an individual who buys a gold brick, will stand around at a political meeting and permit himself to be pumped full of hot air by a Republican politician whose exhaust pipe will be overworked in his effort to make voters believe our prosperity has its source in a piebald thing like the G. O. P.

Says the Chattanooga Times: "The citizen soldiers of North Carolina on guard at Salisbury when the mob took three negroes away from them, are receiving undue criticism from the press abroad. Neither citizens nor soldiers can prevent crime with blank cartridges and the North Carolina boys were not permited to use anything else." The captain of the company has since stated that his men carried riot cartridges with two balls each. But that makes the matter worse.

FOR LAW AND ORDER

...rnor Issues Proclamation to People, Military and Civil Authorities of State

THE NEWS FROM RALEIGH

Republican Judicial and Congressional Conventions—Advertise Tobacco Market—Distillery Chartered in Wayne County.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 15.—An address to the people of North Carolina and special orders to all sheriffs and military companies in the State was issued this evening by Governor Glenn. It makes it compulsory on military companies in the future to fire into mobs when bent on lynching. In the address the Governor declares that until a few weeks ago for four years this State was blessed with law and order, but a few lawless men in three instances have taken the law into their own hands and by violence and with strong hand have overthrown the law and willfully committed murder by lynching prisoners confined in jail.

His order to sheriffs is, in the future when there are threats or rumors of violence to prisoners, to notify the Governor at once; also the captain of the nearest military company and order him to be in readiness to aid. If violence is attempted the sheriff must make a proclamation and order all crowds about the jail to disperse, warning them that if they refuse their injury will be on their own heads. If they do not obey, to use force even to killing if necessary; to arrest all persons engaged in the mob.

A special order is issued to captains of military companies. If called out by lawful orders of the sheriff, firing into a mob is ordered and to arrest all members of the mob possible. In concluding the address to the people the Governor declares these orders show his desire to preserve the law and protect the State, but his efforts will be futile unless all good citizens aid him. Law abiding citizens should keep out of a mob and use every effort to get it to disperse. The Governor expresses the utmost confidence in the State officers and the people and says he, therefore, calls on them to help in efforts to maintain peace and quiet and forever prevent such disgraceful scenes as they have just passed through, scenes which reflect on our people, giving us the name of law breakers which an overwhelmingly majority of our people do not deserve, and injuring our good State in every sense, materially, educationally and morally.

The Republican Congressional Convention for the fourth district and the sixth judicial dsitrict was held here this afternoon. Barry Godwin, of Johnston county was nominated for Congress and ex-Judge W. S. O'B. Robinson, of Goldsboro, for solicitor. Godwin will make the run against Congressman E. W. Pou and Robinson against Solicitor Armistead Jones.

The Raleigh Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held last night appropriated four hundred dollars to be expended in advertising and otherwise promoting the Raleigh tobacco market which this season gives promise of gratifying development. There are two warehouses and both are having good daily sales. Durham, Youngsville, Apex, Henderson, Smithfield and other towns are competing for tobacco in this territory hence the stand the Chamber of Commerce will take in drawing the patronage to the Raleigh market.

A charter was isued to-day for the Sanford Davis Distilling Co., of Fremont, Wayne county, capital $7,500 by Frank Edderman, Sanford Davis and Abe Dinkin for distilling whiskeys and brandy.

Assistant State Veternarian G. A. Roberts returned this morning from Hyde county where he went under direction of the State Department of Agriculture to investigate the epidemic that is causing the death of so many horses in that section. He found that at least one hundred horses have died in two townships, Lake Landing and Currituck, in Hyde county. Of all the cases he found there were only three that gave any promise of recovery. The disease is what is commonly known as staggers and is thought to originate from fungus of mould in the feed or water. Dr. Roberts says not only the feed on hand for stock is practically ruined by the continued rains but the crops throughout the county are almost a total failure.

CAROLINA TRUCKERS IN SESSION YESTERDAY

Annual Meeting of Stockholders of E. C. T. and F. G. Association Held Here Yesterday and Compr... hensive Reports Heard—Banquet

The annual meeting of the East Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Association in this city yesterday was well attended and for the most part was harmonious throughout. All the old officers, directors and members of the Executive Committee were unanimously re-elected with the single exception of Dr. E. Porter, of Rocky Point, who has passed away since the last meeting. Mr. J. C. Jones, of Rocky Point, was elected on the Board of Directors in place of Dr. Porter.

The annual meeting was held in the Court House and was called to order by President Wm. E. Springer, of Wilmington, at 3 o'clock. Secretary H. T. Bauman was at the desk as secretary and more than a hundred stockholders were in attendance. The first business was the reading and approval of the minutes of the last annual meeting. The secretary then submitted and read the annual reports of the Executive Committee and his own report as secretary and business agent of the Association. These were very comprehensive documents and reviewed at length the history of the industry not only for the past year but for the past decade. The reports were heard by the truckers with great interest and were unanimously adopted.

The matter of most vital interest to the Asociation came up next under the head of unfinished business, a proposed change in the constitution and by-laws of the organization submitted at the last annual meeting by Dr. Jno. M. Faison, of Faison. The proposed change contemplates a system of county local associations subservient to the central organization with a system of representation in the annual meetings and on the Board of ...fectors based upon the number of packages of truck shipped from the several stations. The proposed changes with slight alterations since ... first introduced was strongly ... by Dr Faison as the plan of the S... ern Cotton Association and as in...esting the great general body of truckers in the organization. Dr. Faison moved the adoption of the amendments to the constitution and by-laws. Mr. Z. W. Whitehead was of the opinion that the Association would have more influence as one compact, concrete organization. Dr. Faison at length amended his original plan by providing a system of county organizations which should meet in their annual conventions just before the annual meeting of the general body. In these county conventions every shipping point would have one delegate for every 1,000 packages of truck of any kind shipped; these county conventions to have one delegate in the general meeting for every 5,000 packages shipped and a member of the Board of Directors of the general association for every 25,000 packages of truck shipped or fractional part thereof over 15,000.

Mr. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, read an excerpt from the charter of the Association and said that the same would have to be amended by the Legislature before the plan of Dr. Faison could be put in operation. He moved that the matter be referred to the incoming Board of Directors favorably with the recommendation that the charter be so amended as to embrace the plan of organization as outlined by Dr. Faison. Then arose the question, after further discussion, as to whether the Board should be instructed to take this action, or whether it should act after using its discretion. The issue was never clearly brought and the motion to refer to the Board of Directors was passed by an aye and nay vote. There were

Two big one-day excursions arrived in the city yesterday, returning early last night. One was Southerland's excursion from Clinton and brought about 500 people and the other was from Dunn, N. C., over the A. & Y. Division of the A. C. L., bringing about 400 strangers to the city. With the Charlotte excursion here for two days, the crowds on the streets during the day were very large and the suburban cars were taxed to their capacity to handle the traffic to the beach. Trains of five cars, the longest ever operated on the line, were in use part of the day conveying the visitors to and from the seashore.

The crowds were handled well until late in the afternoon, some disarrangement in the schedule resulted in about 25 of the Clinton party being left in the city last night at 8 o'clock. Of course, upon their arrival in the city, the strangers had to be taken care of and a special train taking them to Clinton was made up and dispatched about an hour after the excursion had departed.

The Charlotte and Chester excursionists will return home to-day after two days and two nights at the beach. Many of them yesterday embraced the opportunity of taking a trip on the water and the steamers catering to the passenger traffic on the river did a good business.

A number of other excursions will be here this week, including many beach visitors who will come from the South on the regular trains on the annual low rates offered by the railroads to mountain and seashore resorts. Many of these reached the city on yesterday afternoon's and last night's trains.

Car Struck the Building.

A car being switched on the A. C. L. yards yesterday morning jumped the track and smashed into the new office building of the company at the southwest corner of Front and Red Cross streets. The only damage was the smashing in of one end of the car.

AGENT IS ARRESTED

C. J. Beery, Local Representative of the International Correspondence Schools, Charged With Embezzlement—Shortage of $280.

C. J. Beery, for the past several months manager of the International Corespondence Schools in this city, with offices on the first floor of the I. O. O. F. building, was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff W. H. Cox on a warrant from Justice Furlong's court, charging him with embezzling the funds of his employers. The warrant was secured by Mr. J. N. Tompkins, general superintendent of the company's interest with headquarters in Washington, D. C., and District Superintendent Ralph Anderson, of Richmond, both of whom have been in the city for several days, looking into the affairs of the Wilmington office.

Beery is a young man and his home is in Ohio. He has been here several months and made a number of friends among the best people of Wilmington. He dresses well, has a genteel appearance and a good address. The amount of his alleged defalcation is placed at $280 by the superintendents who caused his arrest and the shortages are said to have occurred during the months of June, July and August. The preliminary trial was held yesterday afternoon before Justice Furlong and young Beery was committed to jail in default of $200 bond. The local office of the Schools in this city is in charge of the District Superintendent, who is going over the books. Beery says he is not short in the amount named; that one remittance of $83 by postoffice money order was lost and he has misplaced the receipt. He says the other shortage occurred by reporting funds as collected and holding receipts for patrons who failed to come in and pay. Young Beery said he would decide by this morning whether or not he will notify his people in Ohio of the trouble he is in and have them give bond for him, or whether he will remain in jail and save his parents anxiety on his account. He was very despondent when arrested by the officer yesterday and made rash threats when being taken to the jail.

FEARFULLY M...

Young Alex... Dea... ...S INSTANT

Alex. F. Miller, a young clerk in the office of Mr. E. L. Prince, auditor of freight receipts of Atlantic Coast Line, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller, Tenth and Chesnut streets, this city, was instantly killed last night a little after 8 o'clock by being run over by the outgoing Clinton excursion train on the yards of the railroad, just beyond Ninth and MacRae streets. His body was fearfully mangled and identification for a long time was difficult on account of the badly mutilated condition of the body.

It is supposed that young Miller boarded the excursion train at the Front street station of the Alantic Coast Line for the purpose of riding out to Tenth street and jumping off near his home as he train slowed down for the "Y" there. He either misjudged the speed of the cars and in jumping off was thrown under the train or he fell off in some way on account of the crowded condition of thep latform. His body was found a short time after the train had passed and the matter was reported to the railroad offices. Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was notified and after viewing the remains where they were strewn along the rails, he turned the body over to Undertaker W. W. King. The remains were taken to Mr. King's place of business on Dock street and for a long time they were unidentified. A stamp book was at length found in one of the coat pockets, bearing the young man's name, and later some of his fellow employes in the Coast Line offices came down and identified fragments of the body as those of young Miller, whom they knew well. The news was later about 11 o'clock broken as gently as possible to the parents at their home near Tenth and Chesnut streets. Arrangements for the burial will be made to-day. Young Miller was about 18 years of age and was a handsome, manly young fellow, held in the very highest esteem by all his associates, many of whom expressed great regret at his tragic death last night. He formerly was a clerk at the Eagle Steam Laundry, on Second street. He had been employed at the Coast Line only a comparatively short time. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Miller and they are greatly bowed down in grief at his death. Mr. Miller is a painter in the Atlantic Coast Line shops in this city and is a man held in high esteem. The young man is survived by his father and mother, one brother, Master Arthur Miller, an A. D. T. messenger at the Western Union; and three sisters, Hazel, Lora and Ruth, the youngest being about six years of age. All members of the grief stricken family have the tenderest sympathy of many friends.

Young Miller's head was completely severed from his body and his limbs were cut off and carried along the tracks by the coach trucks for considerable distance, making a fearful spectacle for the trainmen who first discovered him. It is thought that the special train which followed the excursion train also passed over the body. There were unconfirmed rumors of a fight having occurred on the train as it was passing out of the yards last night but it is believed that young Miller had nothing to do with that, for he was exceedingly quiet and would have been the last one to have engaged in any kind of disturbance. The remains are at the establishment of Mr. King, subject to the orders of the coroner, but it is believed that no inquest will be necessary. The tragedy is greatly deplored in Wilmington.

Early this morning the remains of young Miller were taken to the undertaking rooms of Mr. W. E. Yopp and arrangements have been made for the funeral services from the family residence at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

ADDRESS TO COTTON MEN.

President C. C. Moore, of the North Carolina Division of the Southern Cotton Association, has issued the following to the cotton growers of North Carolina and those interested in this important industry:

"In the forty-eight counties in North Carolina, organized into the Southern Cotton Association, there was an executive committee of five good men elected and to them I look for the success or failure of the organization in their respective counties. If this committee are alive and alert to the interest of the cotton grower then the organizaion in their county is a success.

"This committee was instructed to have a statistical committee in each township to make monthly condition reports on the growing crop and on bales of cotton in the hands of the growers.

"It is of the greatest importance that we have an honest, truthful report from every township in the State by the first day of September. This report should give the crop condition up to August 25th also amount of old coton in hands of farmers and merchants.

"This is a matter that every North Carolinian is deeply interested in and I beg the help of every individual in my effort to secure the exact facts.

"The city, town and county merchant can be o great assistance to me if he will look after the statistical committee of his township and urge them and assist them to get up this report and send to Secretary T. B. Parker, Raleigh, N. C., by the first of September.

"Early in September the several State Presidents will meet at Hot Springs, Ark., for the purpose of finding the true condition of cotton and its value to the consuming world. Representing the interests of North Carolina, I wish to go to this meeting of the Southern Cotton Association, with a full understanding of the true conditions as seen by those most interested in the price we are to receive for our crop.

"There is no time to be lost. Every township should hold a meeting on August 24th ar 25th. Every farmer, merchant, mechanic, doctor, preacher and lawyer is interested in the price of cotton, and every one should attend this meeting of his township division."

President Moore urges that this is "a matter of great importance to our State." So it is, and for that reason it is hoped that his request will be complied with. Let our farmers, merchants and bankers, all of whom are deeply concerned in the cotton growing industry, be alive to the vital move [illegible] make the cotton industry what it ought to be to the South.

IMPORTANCE OF COTTON PRODUCTION.

The European spinners a few months ago had their representatives here looking into the cotton situation and upon their return home they reported that for years to come Europe would have to look to America for the source of supply for the cotton mills of England and the Continent. Not to get left the Japanese cotton manufacturers and cotton merchants have sent their representative here to look into the cotton situation. They send only one man but it is a cinch that they have sent a shrewd one and a keen observer. He is Yoshuchi Sakuriri.

Mr. Sakuriri arrived in San Francisco from Japan on Tuesday, and the Star's Associated Press dispatches from Frisco stated that in speaking of the trade of the United States with Japan he says that in the next ten years Japan will get over three-fourths of her cotton from the United States. He said:

"Last year Japan used over 1,000,000 bales of cotton and only one-fourth of that was from the United States. The rest came from the cotton fields of India and Asia. This cotton is very inferior to that which comes to Japan from the United States. The other is found to be much coarser and rots easier. The Japanese realize the superiority of the American article and all first class cotton weavers are coming to use it. The export of cotton from the United States to Japan is bound to increase enormously in the next few years."

The visits of the Japanese manufacturer and of the English and Continental spinners more than ever emphasizes the importance of our great Southern industry—the production of cotton. The South has a reason to feel assured of the continuing and growing importance of its cotton producing industry, and especially so that we are rivaling the world in spinning and weaving our own product.

DO YOU KNOW THE GENTLEMAN?

The New York Sun (Rep.) makes these few scattering remarks:

"His many excellent and amiable qualities are known to everybody. He is a healthy and hearty chap; a gripper of hands, a compeller of hearts; a voice of many tinkling cymbals; a fine, melodramatic figure of a man. He means well whether he carires out his intentions or not. He has damnable iteration. He has given the Democracy medicines to make it like him; he has, as Mr. Lowell or somebody else said of Gladstone, a genius for 'improvising convictions.' He blows across and around the world like a hot wind over dryest Nebraska. The energy, the spirit, the vigor, the ebullience, resonance and reverberation of him win the interest of all admirers of salient personality and perpetual motion."

No use to call names. The gentleman referred to is too conspicuously in the limelight for anybody not to see "the cut of him."

If it is a soft corn, 413 vibrations per second will suffice; if a hard corn, put on forced draught. Repeat slowly: "I am now sending a current of thought force into my corn, and so separating, deducing, disentegrating, rendering, splitting sundering, splintering, snipping, dwellicating, whittling, dislocating, eliding, divorcing, pulverizing, slashing, slicing and dissecting it, that presently it will pass away." Repeat it three times; then, with rising inflection: "Avaunt! avaunt! avaunt!" Finish by repeating the password, "The universe is mine. I am it." The corn will at first look extremely surprised, then wilt and fade beautifully from sight.—New Thought.

THE SHACKLES WERE BROKEN

The Keeley Institute, Greensboro, N. C.:

It gives me profound pleasure to add my testimony to your most honored roll. Eight years ago I entered your Institute a hopeless wreck in body, mind, and soul. Upon completing the prescribed course of treatment, the miraculous has also been worked in my case. I left your precincts fully conscious that I was a man again. Language fails to express the emotions that possessed me. The shackles of strong drink that had bound me in fetters stronger than brass, were broken. The awful sting of the serpent's bite and its effects had been thoroughly eradicated, and I could again go forth a blessing to the world, to which I had been a curse.

From that day to this glad hour there has not only been an absence of any desire whatever for strong drink on my part, but an absolute loathing and disgust has ever possessed me. It gives me pleasure to further state that I am in excellent health; have a trusted position, a cozy little home, a loving happy little family, all of which, through a merciful Providence, I owe to the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, N. C.

I can truthfully say that your treatment is all you claim for it and more. My very pleasant stay in the Institute and the personal kindness at your hands will always be held in grateful remembrance. It is impossible for me to endorse your treatment in terms equal to its merits.

AS WE LIVE WE GROW

In values and in stock. This is the Mid-Summer season but we have lots of new and pretty things to show. We have just placed on sale, about four hundred pieces of Nos. 60, 80 and 100 in plaids and fancy Dresden ribbons; regular price from 15c to 25c per yard, our price 10 per yard special.

We have five hundred new umbrellas, one hundred ladies' and one hundred men's, are made of the best paragon frame with a copper wire rivet, cloth the best cravenette rain proof cloth, with fancy handles; goods that would be cheap at $1.25 or $1.50. Our price for the ladies' is 89c and for the men's $1.00.

We have fifty sample rolls of matting. It is newly imported goods, each roll different from the other and is better goods than the ordinary stock as it is goods that is sent to this country as samples only, and is 25 per cent. cheaper than regular matting.

This matting runs in price 15c, 18c, 20c, and 25c per yard.

We have two rolls of 40-in wide hemp carpet. It is reversible patterns, one side being carpet pattern and one side matting pattern. Goods that is worth 35c per yard and we are showing it for 25c per yard.

In our millinery department we have received a beautiful line of silk hats and braid hats, goods that are up to date and pretty. They come in all shades and different prices from 75c to $2.25 each.

To ladies who wish pretty plumes either full length or 3-4 size, I would like to show them some samples. I have all colors and prices from $1.00 to $6.50 each.

Our flower stock we will sell for 25 per cent. less than first price.

We think the best muslin underwear is sold in the city by us.

We handle nothing but The Royal Underwear and every garment is well made, every seam doubly stitched and our prices are as cheap as any ordinary goods The best place to buy it is where you can get the best goods for the least money and we ask you to look at ours. We have garments for all prices from 25c to $1.00 each. We have them finely trimmed up as high as $3.50 each.

Tailor Made Skirts—As the Fall season is approaching we have secured a big line of ladies' skirts and I feel quite sure that you will find them cheap.

In white or cream mohair skirts we have some special values. We have about three different styles and the skirts were made to sell from $3.50 to $5.00 each; we are offering these skirts from $2.00 to $3.50 each. We also have a nice line of colored skirts from $1.50 to $7.50 each. We bought from a factory a few days ago about 80 skirts which were slightly imperfect at a great reduction and we can sell you these goods at 25 per cent. less than manufacturers' cost. They are all this Fall styles and new goods while the imperfections are oftimes so small that you would not notice them, for instance a $5.00 skirt would be about $3.00 or $3.25. This is a good chance to save money and that is what every one wants.

Boys' Wash Suits to Close Out—I will allow next week 10 per cent. discount on all good that I sell in this line. They were already very cheap but we bought too many for the size of the town and must reduce the stock. I will also offer a discount of 10 per cent. on all mohair, sicilian and serge coats for men. These are all new goods, but we consider it better to lose the 10 per cent. profit than to carry them over.

For your Fall Dress Goods in fine qualities and new styles, we propose to lead the city. The best way to prove it is to examine our line before purchasing elsewhere.

With us it is a problem where to put our Fall stock when it comes in. Our store is already full and for the next few days we will receive hundreds of cases of general merchandise. We buy from large factories and they deliver their Fall goods early and we are in a position to sell you goods this season as cheap as we ever sold them in our lives.

I want to say in relation to your dress goods bill; whether you live in this city or a thousand miles off, and you want the best goods and the prettiest styles, I ask you to give me a showing. All persons wishing dress goods samples will send 5 cents for postage, as we do not care to give the samples indiscriminately as it costs both money and the postage.

We want your Fall business. We give you the best goods for the money and premium stamps with every purchase. Our premium department is a beautiful place. It looks like a fairy corner and think! we give those things away without cost to the purchaser. Ask to see this department. Do your trading with us and get something pretty.

The Congressman from the Eighth was unavailable to newspaper men, but he announced to a friend that he would open headquarters at Wilkesboro two weeks hence and begin his campaign for re-election. Among other things he announced that he had subscribed to the Republican Congressional campaign fund to the extent of one dollar. No doubt he expects to reap a much larger return, for he has led the Republican campaign managers to believe that he will be re-elected provided he receives adequate assistance in a financial way.

—Lexington special, Aug. 14: The inhabitants of this town was surprised and startled Sunday morning by the loud knocking of hammers and grinding of saws in the hands of mechanics of the Southern Railway. Near the depot a force of hands have for sometime been constructing a concrete arch. Disregarding the State Sabbath laws, they went to work yesterday morning at the usual week-day time and all day long continued their labor. People going and returning from their Sunday worship would stop and wonder at such a disregard of the Holy Sabbath by agents of the Southern Railway. This arch is a large construction and will require several weeks, and perhaps months, to complete. It will be used by both tracks of the railroad when the double tracking system is completed. No reason can be given for working on Sunday except to rapidly complete the work of the carpenters so the concrete force can not be delayed in their work. This matter has been freely discussed on the streets today by citizens who looked upon the work as a bold and unjustifiable disregard of the Sunday laws of our State by the Southern Railway. The work does not in any way interfere with traffic on the road, as the arch is not near completed and far under the railroad track.

[Original.]

"Don't you think, Cuthbert, that it would be nice to make our wedding trip to your old home in the country? You could show me all those places that were familiar to you as a boy, the swimming hole, the two beaches you have so often told me about all cut over with names, that little copse within which you played at housekeeping."

"Yes, Rosa, dear; I quite approve of your plan." Then he sat silent and thoughtful. With woman's quick eye she detected a sad memory.

The wedding over, they took a train for the village in which Cuthbert Deane had been born and from which five years before he had gone to seek his fortune in the city. His widowed mother was living on the old place and being averse to travel had declined to be present at the ceremony, saying she would be at home to receive the bridal couple. The first day after their arrival they visited every object Cuthbert had told his wife about, most of them being very much as he had left them, except that some of them had dwindled. The distance from a window in his room to the ground, which used to be very great, now seemed so trifling that he could jump from it without injury; the swimming hole was no bigger than a bath tub. As to the beeches, he could reach their lower branches.

"But the little copse," said Rosa, "the inside of which was fitted up for child's housekeeping—aren't you going to show me that?"

Cuthbert looked serious and said nothing. Had he not changed his expression she might have forgotten all about the copse; as it was her curiosity was excited.

"Well, is there any reason why I should not see it?"

"It is not on this place; it is ten miles away."

"Can't we drive there?"

"We could were it not for the rains which have softened the road. Besides, the copse is on the grounds of one who"— He paused.

"It may have been cut down," she said, seeing that he did not go on.

"No, it is there still."

"How do you know?"

"Please, Rosa, don't talk any more about the copse."

The young wife glanced at her husband inquiringly, then turned the subject.

A few days before their expected departure Cuthbert announced that a matter of business he wished to attend to while at home would necessitate his driving to the county seat. Rosa asked if she could not go with him, but he told her he might be detained overnight and there were no suitable accommodations for her in the place. He kissed her and, jumping into a buggy, drove down the road. Ten minutes later Rosa jumped into another vehicle and followed him.

Cuthbert, after driving awhile, drew up on the edge of a wood where he tethered his horse, then walked toward a house near by in the center of large grounds. He did not enter by the gate, but, circling, climbed a fence in the rear and proceeded to a clump of tall brush. Going directly to an opening, the location of which he knew exactly, he entered an open space.

A stranger coming upon such a place might have supposed it to be the grave of an Indian girl child, with her play things to amuse her in the Indians' heaven. There were bedsteads, bureau and enormous dolls; indeed, the place was furnished as if it were a little house. The brush intertwined above and a ceiling of straw had been thatched to turn the rain. In the center of the space was a grave, but it was the length of an adult. At its head was a stone, on which were the letters:

ALMA,
Aged 14 years and 10 months.

Cuthbert looked about him, with a curious expression. He was taken back to the time when he and Alma used to play house here as children. Just before he had left for the city he and his young love—she being then nearly fifteen—had plighted their troth there, and the little girl had promised to one day keep house for him in reality. A month after he left her she sickened and died. Her parents, who adored her, had placed her in the copse she loved so well, leaving it as it was when she was emerging from childhood.

Cuthbert knelt for a few moments beside the grave, then stood looking down upon it. There was that perfect silence which permits one to live in past scenes. He saw her, tall and lithe, two massive coils of chestnut hair, her blue eyes looking into his. For the moment he was where he had been, not where he was. Then tears began to well up in his eyes.

He was recalled to the present by a rustle of skirts coming through the narrow opening and, turning, saw his wife.

A glance at the interior, the grave, her husband, told Rosa a story of love in which her husband had been absorbed before she had ever seen him. One flash of the pang of jealousy and she, too, had gone back with him to his child love, and his sorrow was her sorrow. Stepping forward, she placed her hand in his and stood looking down with him on the grave of the girl whose place she had taken. No word of reproof that he had kept this secret from her profaned his sorrow. Grief is communicative, and there was something in the silence, the playthings, the grave, that told upon her emotion. She wept as he wept.

ADDRESS TO COTTON MEN.

President C. C. Moore, of the North Carolina Division of the Southern Cotton Association, has issued the following to the cotton growers of North Carolina and those interested in this important industry:

"In the forty-eight counties in North Carolina, organized into the Southern Cotton Association, there was an executive committee of five good men elected and to them I look for the success or failure of the organization in their respective counties. If this committee are alive and alert to the interest of the cotton grower then the organizaion in their county is a success.

"This committee was instructed to have a statistical committee in each township to make monthly condition reports on the growing crop and on bales of cotton in the hands of the growers.

"It is of the greatest importance that we have an honest, truthful report from every township in the State by the first day of September. This report should give the crop condition up to August 25th also amount of old coton in hands of farmers and merchants.

"This is a matter that every North Carolinian is deeply interested in and I beg the help of every individual in my effort to secure the exact facts.

"The city, town and county merchant can be o great assistance to me if he will look after the statistical committee of his township and urge them and assist them to get up this report and send to Secretary T. B. Parker, Raleigh, N. C., by the first of September.

"Early in September the several State Presidents will meet at Hot Springs, Ark., for the purpose of finding the true condition of cotton and its value to the consuming world. Representing the interests of North Carolina, I wish to go to this meeting of the Southern Cotton Association, with a full understanding of the true conditions as seen by those most interested in the price we are to receive for our crop.

"There is no time to be lost. Every township should hold a meeting on August 24th ar 25th. Every farmer, merchant, mechanic, doctor, preacher and lawyer is interested in the price of cotton, and every one should attend this meeting of his township division."

President Moore urges that this is "a matter of great importance to our State." So it is, and for that reason it is hoped that his request will be complied with. Let our farmers, merchants and bankers, all of whom are deeply concerned in the cotton growing industry, be alive to the vital move [illegible] make the cotton industry what it ought to be to the South.

IMPORTANCE OF COTTON PRODUCTION.

The European spinners a few months ago had their representatives here looking into the cotton situation and upon their return home they reported that for years to come Europe would have to look to America for the source of supply for the cotton mills of England and the Continent. Not to get left the Japanese cotton manufacturers and cotton merchants have sent their representative here to look into the cotton situation. They send only one man but it is a cinch that they have sent a shrewd one and a keen observer. He is Yoshuchi Sakuriri.

Mr. Sakuriri arrived in San Francisco from Japan on Tuesday, and the Star's Associated Press dispatches from Frisco stated that in speaking of the trade of the United States with Japan he says that in the next ten years Japan will get over three-fourths of her cotton from the United States. He said:

"Last year Japan used over 1,000,000 bales of cotton and only one-fourth of that was from the United States. The rest came from the cotton fields of India and Asia. This cotton is very inferior to that which comes to Japan from the United States. The other is found to be much coarser and rots easier. The Japanese realize the superiority of the American article and all first class cotton weavers are coming to use it. The export of cotton from the United States to Japan is bound to increase enormously in the next few years."

The visits of the Japanese manufacturer and of the English and Continental spinners more than ever emphasizes the importance of our great Southern industry—the production of cotton. The South has a reason to feel assured of the continuing and growing importance of its cotton producing industry, and especially so that we are rivaling the world in spinning and weaving our own product.

DO YOU KNOW THE GENTLEMAN?

The New York Sun (Rep.) makes these few scattering remarks:

"His many excellent and amiable qualities are known to everybody. He is a healthy and hearty chap; a gripper of hands, a compeller of hearts; a voice of many tinkling cymbals; a fine, melodramatic figure of a man. He means well whether he carires out his intentions or not. He has damnable iteration. He has given the Democracy medicines to make it like him; he has, as Mr. Lowell or somebody else said of Gladstone, a genius for 'improvising convictions.' He blows across and around the world like a hot wind over dryest Nebraska. The energy, the spirit, the vigor, the ebullience, resonance and reverberation of him win the interest of all admirers of salient personality and perpetual motion."

No use to call names. The gentleman referred to is too conspicuously in the limelight for anybody not to see "the cut of him."

—Saloons and restaurants in New York "red light" districts have been ordered to suspend the selling of drinks after 1 o'clock in the morning until 5. Slowly but surely the laws are tightening upon the dispensation of intoxicating beverages. When such an order becomes possible in New York city it signifies much as to the temper of the balance of the country. Most of the evils that flow from the sale of whiskey occurs beween the hours of 10 and 4 o'clock during the night.—Chattanooga Times.

—That sock fashion the ladies have adopted for beach appearances at Atlantic City must be very pretty. As the Savannah News describes the essential feature of it, "from the top of the sock to the bottom of the smock there isn't anything but just nature." There is nothing like that to be seen at the beaches adjacent to Charleston and the women show no disposition to adopt men's attire for the surf. The boot, or rather the stocking, is on the other leg, the man's leg. The men say it is to guard against the fearsome sea blubber that they wear the borrowed—we suppose they are borrowed—hose. They look much better on their real owners.—Charleston Post.

—Expose the corn and pass the finger of your right hand over it slowly and caressingly, at the same time sending a vibration from the brain to the corn. If it is a soft corn, 413 vibrations per second will suffice; if a hard corn, put on forced draught. Repeat slowly: "I am now sending a current of thought force into my corn, and so separating, deducing, disentegrating, rendering, splitting sundering, splintering, snipping, dwellicating, whittling, dislocating, eliding, divorcing, pulverizing, slashing, slicing and dissecting it, that presently it will pass away." Repeat it three times; then, with rising inflection: "Avaunt! avaunt! avaunt!" Finish by repeating the password, "The universe is mine. I am it." The corn will at first look extremely surprised, then wilt and fade beautifully from sight.—New Thought.

The Keeley Institute, Greensboro, N. C.:

It gives me profound pleasure to add my testimony to your most honored roll. Eight years ago I entered your Institute a hopeless wreck in body, mind, and soul. Upon completing the prescribed course of treatment, the miraculous has also been worked in my case. I left your precincts fully conscious that I was a man again. Language fails to express the emotions that possessed me. The shackles of strong drink that had bound me in fetters stronger than brass, were broken. The awful sting of the serpent's bite and its effects had been thoroughly eradicated, and I could again go forth a blessing to the world, to which I had been a curse.

From that day to this glad hour there has not only been an absence of any desire whatever for strong drink on my part, but an absolute loathing and disgust has ever possessed me. It gives me pleasure to further state that I am in excellent health; have a trusted position, a cozy little home, a loving happy little family, all of which, through a merciful Providence, I owe to the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, N. C.

I can truthfully say that your treatment is all you claim for it and more. My very pleasant stay in the Institute and the personal kindness at your hands will always be held in grateful remembrance. It is impossible for me to endorse your treatment in terms equal to its merits.

This matting runs in price 15c, 18c, 20c, and 25c per yard.

We have two rolls of 40-in wide hemp carpet. It is reversible patterns, one side being carpet pattern and one side matting pattern. Goods that is worth 35c per yard and we are showing it for 25c per yard.

In our millinery department we have received a beautiful line of silk hats and braid hats, goods that are up to date and pretty. They come in all shades and different prices from 75c to $2.25 each.

To ladies who wish pretty plumes either full length or 3-4 size, I would like to show them some samples. I have all colors and prices from $1.00 to $6.50 each.

Our flower stock we will sell for 25 per cent. less than first price.

We think the best muslin underwear is sold in the city by us.

We handle nothing but The Royal Underwear and every garment is well made, every seam doubly stitched and our prices are as cheap as any ordinary goods The best place to buy it is where you can get the best goods for the least money and we ask you to look at ours. We have garments for all prices from 25c to $1.00 each. We have them finely trimmed up as high as $3.50 each.

Tailor Made Skirts—As the Fall season is approaching we have secured a big line of ladies' skirts and I feel quite sure that you will find them cheap.

In white or cream mohair skirts we have some special values. We have about three different styles and the skirts were made to sell from $3.50 to $5.00 each; we are offering these skirts from $2.00 to $3.50 each. We also have a nice line of colored skirts from $1.50 to $7.50 each. We bought from a factory a few days ago about 80 skirts which were slightly imperfect at a great reduction and we can sell you these goods at 25 per cent. less than manufacturers' cost. They are all this Fall styles and new goods while the imperfections are oftimes so small that you would not notice them, for instance a $5.00 skirt would be about $3.00 or $3.25. This is a good chance to save money and that is what every one wants.

They were already very cheap but we bought too many for the size of the town and must reduce the stock. I will also offer a discount of 10 per cent. on all mohair, sicilian and serge coats for men. These are all new goods, but we consider it better to lose the 10 per cent. profit than to carry them over.

For your Fall Dress Goods in fine qualities and new styles, we propose to lead the city. The best way to prove it is to examine our line before purchasing elsewhere.

With us it is a problem where to put our Fall stock when it comes in. Our store is already full and for the next few days we will receive hundreds of cases of general merchandise. We buy from large factories and they deliver their Fall goods early and we are in a position to sell you goods this season as cheap as we ever sold them in our lives.

I want to say in relation to your dress goods bill; whether you live in this city or a thousand miles off, and you want the best goods and the prettiest styles, I ask you to give me a showing. All persons wishing dress goods samples will send 5 cents for postage, as we do not care to give the samples indiscriminately as it costs both money and the postage.

We want your Fall business. We give you the best goods for the money and premium stamps with every purchase. Our premium department is a beautiful place. It looks like a fairy corner and think! we give those things away without cost to the purchaser. Ask to see this department. Do your trading with us and get something pretty.

—At Kinston the quiet of a Sabbath morn was rudely disturbed Sunday a little before noon when Jake Young, colored, pulled his gun and fired at Paul Peace, another negro, with the avowed intention of killing Peace. The shooting was occasioned by the reopening of a row which occurred Saturday night in Peace's pool room. Young made no effort to get away and was arrested. —Washington special, Aug. 14, to the Raleigh News and Observer: Representative Blackburn left today for Penobscot Bay, Maine, where he will spend a week with his family as the guest of his father-in-law, Col. M. M. Parker, who has a Summer home there. The Congressman from the Eighth was unavailable to newspaper men, but he announced to a friend that he would open headquarters at Wilkesboro two weeks hence and begin his campaign for re-election. Among other things he announced that he had subscribed to the Republican Congressional campaign fund to the extent of one dollar. No doubt he expects to reap a much larger return, for he has led the Republican campaign managers to believe that he will be re-elected provided he receives adequate assistance in a financial way.

—Lexington special, Aug. 14: The inhabitants of this town was surprised and startled Sunday morning by the loud knocking of hammers and grinding of saws in the hands of mechanics of the Southern Railway. Near the depot a force of hands have for sometime been constructing a concrete arch. Disregarding the State Sabbath laws, they went to work yesterday morning at the usual week-day time and all day long continued their labor. People going and returning from their Sunday worship would stop and wonder at such a disregard of the Holy Sabbath by agents of the Southern Railway. This arch is a large construction and will require several weeks, and perhaps months, to complete. It will be used by both tracks of the railroad when the double tracking system is completed. No reason can be given for working on Sunday except to rapidly complete the work of the carpenters so the concrete force can not be delayed in their work. This matter has been freely discussed on the streets today by citizens who looked upon the work as a bold and unjustifiable disregard of the Sunday laws of our State by the Southern Railway. The work does not in any way interfere with traffic on the road, as the arch is not near completed and far under the railroad track.

[Original.]

"Don't you think, Cuthbert, that it would be nice to make our wedding trip to your old home in the country? You could show me all those places that were familiar to you as a boy, the swimming hole, the two beaches you have so often told me about all cut over with names, that little copse within which you played at housekeeping."

"Yes, Rosa, dear; I quite approve of your plan." Then he sat silent and thoughtful. With woman's quick eye she detected a sad memory.

The wedding over, they took a train for the village in which Cuthbert Deane had been born and from which five years before he had gone to seek his fortune in the city. His widowed mother was living on the old place and being averse to travel had declined to be present at the ceremony, saying she would be at home to receive the bridal couple. The first day after their arrival they visited every object Cuthbert had told his wife about, most of them being very much as he had left them, except that some of them had dwindled. The distance from a window in his room to the ground, which used to be very great, now seemed so trifling that he could jump from it without injury; the swimming hole was no bigger than a bath tub. As to the beeches, he could reach their lower branches.

"But the little copse," said Rosa, "the inside of which was fitted up for child's housekeeping—aren't you going to show me that?"

Cuthbert looked serious and said nothing. Had he not changed his expression she might have forgotten all about the copse; as it was her curiosity was excited.

"Well, is there any reason why I should not see it?"

"It is not on this place; it is ten miles away."

"Can't we drive there?"

"We could were it not for the rains which have softened the road. Besides, the copse is on the grounds of one who"— He paused.

"It may have been cut down," she said, seeing that he did not go on.

"No, it is there still."

"How do you know?"

"Please, Rosa, don't talk any more about the copse."

The young wife glanced at her husband inquiringly, then turned the subject.

A few days before their expected departure Cuthbert announced that a matter of business he wished to attend to while at home would necessitate his driving to the county seat. Rosa asked if she could not go with him, but he told her he might be detained overnight and there were no suitable accommodations for her in the place. He kissed her and, jumping into a buggy, drove down the road. Ten minutes later Rosa jumped into another vehicle and followed him.

Cuthbert, after driving awhile, drew up on the edge of a wood where he tethered his horse, then walked toward a house near by in the center of large grounds. He did not enter by the gate, but, circling, climbed a fence in the rear and proceeded to a clump of tall brush. Going directly to an opening, the location of which he knew exactly, he entered an open space.

A stranger coming upon such a place might have supposed it to be the grave of an Indian girl child, with her play things to amuse her in the Indians' heaven. There were bedsteads, bureau and enormous dolls; indeed, the place was furnished as if it were a little house. The brush intertwined above and a ceiling of straw had been thatched to turn the rain. In the center of the space was a grave, but it was the length of an adult. At its head was a stone, on which were the letters:

ALMA,
Aged 14 years and 10 months.

Cuthbert looked about him, with a curious expression. He was taken back to the time when he and Alma used to play house here as children. Just before he had left for the city he and his young love—she being then nearly fifteen—had plighted their troth there, and the little girl had promised to one day keep house for him in reality. A month after he left her she sickened and died. Her parents, who adored her, had placed her in the copse she loved so well, leaving it as it was when she was emerging from childhood.

Cuthbert knelt for a few moments beside the grave, then stood looking down upon it. There was that perfect silence which permits one to live in past scenes. He saw her, tall and lithe, two massive coils of chestnut hair, her blue eyes looking into his. For the moment he was where he had been, not where he was. Then tears began to well up in his eyes.

He was recalled to the present by a rustle of skirts coming through the narrow opening and, turning, saw his wife.

A glance at the interior, the grave, her husband, told Rosa a story of love in which her husband had been absorbed before she had ever seen him. One flash of the pang of jealousy and she, too, had gone back with him to his child love, and his sorrow was her sorrow. Stepping forward, she placed her hand in his and stood looking down with him on the grave of the girl whose place she had taken. No word of reproof that he had kept this secret from her profaned his sorrow. Grief is communicative, and there was something in the silence, the playthings, the grave, that told upon her emotion. She wept as he wept.

STANDARD OIL MATTER.

Special Meeting of Board of Aldermen This Afternoon.

It is probable that at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen this afternoon at 5 o'clock a compromise will be reached by which the Standard Oil Company will be allowed to proceed with the work on its storage tank at Second and Brunswick streets, provided certain precautions are taken against the possibility of a fire and it is believed that the public will then be through with this haggling over a seeming unimportant matter. If a mistake has been made, the public views it that the Aldermen or the Fire Commisison blundered with their eyes wide open and that it is not now to them, if possible, to break the faith of the city with the applicants. Besides, it is pointed out that after all the applications for building the tank were granted, the Board certainly sanctioned the permit by unanimously agreeing to allow the Standard Oil Company to run a pipe line to the new property across the street. This, it is contended by lawyers, confirmed the original contract to allow the tank to be built at the present location and makes the matter doubly binding on the Aldermen in the case of a legal controversy, in which event it is said that the Aldermen individually and not the city would be responsible for a breach of contract.

CHILDREN RETURN TO-DAY.

Little Folks From I. O. O. F. Orphanage to Wrightsville Beach.

The children of the I. O. O. F. Home at Goldsboro will reach the city from Southport this morning about 10 o'clock and will leave on the 10:30 car immediately for Wrightsville Beach where they will be the guests for the day of Manager Jos. H. Hinton, of the Seashore Hotel, which is always a most interesting feature of their annual outing here. They will leave Wrightsville at 5:45 o'clock in the afternoon, reaching the city at 6:30. Persons who are entertaining the children at their homes in this city are asked to meet the cars at that hour and conduct their guests to their home while in the city. There will be no special form of entertainment for the visitors to-night, but tomorrow evening there will be some form of public reception for them. The children leave Saturday for their Home at Goldsboro.

Sove, J. and Rowlings formed the battery for the Wilson team and Jones and Gainer for Caswell. The teams will play doubleheaders to-day and the fourth game on Friday.

votes both in the affirmative and negative, but the chair ruled the ayes were in the majority and there was no call for a division. In response to inquiry it was stated that all stockholders would be eligible to sit in the annual meetings and that the vote would be by stock in the Association as at present

Mr. Henry Faison asked about a specific instance of late delivery and was referred for information to the Business Agent.

Mr. Isaac Faison adverted to the fact that the Secretary's report showed that of the $5,000 that should have been collected from the per crate tax for the maintenance of the Association only about $1,400 was actually collected and he wanted to know why this discrepancy. Mr. Brown explained that the amount had formerly been collected by the refrigerator people for the Association but that under the Hepburn bill, this had been declared illegal and the refrigerator car people had been obliged to decline to collect the tax for the Association any longer. Mr. Faison took the ground that the arrangement by which this revenue was formerly collected was not illegal and he favored taking the matter to the U. S. Supreme Court to be finally determined. No action was, however, taken.

Mr. A. S. Root, of the Carolina Trucking Development Co., read a prospectus of the proposed fruit and truck fair in Eastern North Carolina which was recently provided for by the State Board of Agriculture. It is proposed to hold the fair at Wilmington about the middle of April at which time there will be Homeseekers' excursions here from the West whom it will be hoped to interest in the fine trucking lands of this section. Mr. Root is a member of the State Board of Horticulture and asked the Truckers' Association to lend every encouragement to the proposed fair.

The secretary read very feeling resolutions of respect upon the death of the late Dr. E. Porter, adopted by the Board of Directors at their morning sesison. The resolutions were unanimously passed by the stockholders.

Nominations for members of the Board of Directors of the Association were then declared in order and Mr. Armstrong, of Rocky Point, placed in nomination the old Board with Mr. J. C. Jones in place of Dr. Porter. By instruction the Secretary cast the unanimous vote of the Association for the gentlemen named as follows:

Board of Directors—J. A. Westbrook, Mt. Olive; H. J. Faison, Faison; W. L. Hill, Warsaw; D. W. Fussell, Teachey; J. S. Westbrook, Wallace; J. H. Moore, Burgaw; M. F. Leonhart, G. E. Horton, Chadbourn; J. A. Brown, Chadbourn; D. Boughner and H. L. Struthers, Grists; W. E. Springer, H. T. Bauman, Wilmington; Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, Currie; S. H. Strange, Fayetteville; R. C. Powell, Whiteville; J. G. White, Wards, S. J. Sarvis, Mt. Tabor; J. L. Williamson, Cerro Gordo.

Upon motion Calypso, an important shipping point on the W. & W. road, was given representation on the Board and Mr. N. B. Byrd was elected a member from that point.

A resolution strongly endorsing the bill of Hon. F. M. Simmons in the Senate, designed to assist the truck growers in marketing their crops, was presented by Mr. Brown and was unanimously adopted.

The meeting of the stockholders then adjourned after Mr. Whitehead had supplied all the visitors with badges for the supper at the Hotel Tarymoore and cordially invited all of them to be present. Dr. Faison made the response in behalf of the Association for the tender of this hospitality.

The Board of Directors met immediately after the stockholders but about the only business of interest transacted was the re-election of officers and members of the Executive Committee as follows:

President—W. E. Springer, Wilmington.

Vice President—J. S. Westbrook, Wallace.

Secretary and Business Agent—H. T. Bauman, Wilmington.

Treasurer—S. H. Strange, Fayetteville.

Attorney—James O. Carr, Wilmington.

Executive Committee—W. E. Springer, W. L. Hill, J. A. Westbrook, J. S. Westbrook and J. A. Brown.

The Annual Reports.

The annual reports of the Executive Committee and Secretary and Business Agent Bauman were finally passed upon at a meeting of the Board of Directors yesterday morning and were later submitted to the stockholders at their meeting.

The tenth annual report of Secretary Bauman reviewed very critically the work of the past year, giving the estimates of the acreage and probable production, which were later, almost verified by the actual shipping figures, showing how closely the situation is guaged beforehand for transportation reasons. The first shipment of strawberries in refrigerator cars was from Chadbourn on April 18th. and from the W. & W. section on the 24th. Up to April 30th., the shipments in refrigerators amounted to 275 cars, an average movement of strawberries for each market from all stations on the A. C. L. Railroad in Eastern North Carolina is given in a table of crates and cars. The average loading per car was 201 1-2 crates and 77 markets were reached, many new ones being added this season. From May 1st. to 11th., inclusive, 1,679 cars were handled an average of 152 per day; from then until the 20th., the average was 55 cars and for the remainder of the season to June 5th., the average was 2 1-2 cars. From this it will be seen that 2,175 refrigerator cars were handled in the season of 20 days, an average of 109 cars per day. The number of crates by refrigerator was 499,669. The shipments in 1905 amounted to 441,711 crates in 1,905 cars, the average loading being 232 crates. By express 66,165 crates; in ventilated and box cars, 28,000 crates, making a total of 535,876 crates. In 1906 the increase by refrigerator was 57,958 crates while there was a decrease by express of 24,386 crates. The decrease in ventilated and box cars was 27,000 crates, leaving a net increase of 5,672 crates in the actual movement. If the 66,753 crates that were dumped in the car shortage of 1905 are added, the report shows that the shipments that year would have exceeded those of 1906 by 61,081 crates, making 1905 the banner year in the history of the industry in this section.

The vegetable output was not up to the average this season, lettuce and potatoes especially being cut off by adverse weather.

The movement at South Rocky Mount the past year was very satisfactory and from the secretary's daily observation the handling of the business there was well done, including the work of the Fruit Growers' Express. Representatives from the Inter-State Commerce Commission were there during the season, taking note of conditions day and night. As these agents did not make known the object of their presence there, the secretary —conjectures that their observation had some bearing on the statements by the Armour Car Lines before the Commission in Washington, on the cost of icing and re-icing from this territory.

From the reports of the agents at New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburg the deliveries were for the most part satisfactory and the fruit in fair condition. Many complaints were, however, made of fraudulently packed crates and this had a serious effect on the market, the low prices obtained for good berries, in many instances, was attributed to this dishonest practice. Our agents suggest that aggressive measures be taken with the grower, the report says as to the proper grading of the berries, as it is in the opinion of all concerned, a down right —steal on their part, the manner in which some shipments are put up. The agents report having seen crate after crate topped with large, fine berries, presenting a beautiful appearance, with the centre and bottom tiers actually green and worthless. That this kind of packing hurt the entire market and lowered the price of all, is a foregone conclusion. It was impossible to place the responsibility for this dishonest practice, as the names of the grower, of course, were not on the crate.

"Our Association and growers have always enjoyed an enviable reputation for square dealing and honest pack of their berries," the secretary says, "and our Association and majority of our growers have suffered great wrong at the hands of some degenerates who should be dealt with summarily."

"It has always been my pride in the ten years of my connection with this Association to help build up the greatest organization of the kind in the United States and place it on a plane far beyond the reach of adverse criticism or censure. That we have succeeded in great measure goes without saying and anything tending to reflect or break down this well earned reputation and position, from what—ever source, must be severely and unmistakably dealt with. That you can handle this question successfully and satisfactorily as you have done others of great moment in the past is a foregone conclusion, and as you saved the day for our people in 1905 when chaos and demoralization threatened the very existence of our industry, now, as then, we look to you for the solution and proper adjustment of this important matter."

The report next goes on to show the growth of the strawberry industry from 1897 to 1906, a period of ten years and some of the things the Association has accomplished for the grower in that time. It is shown in a very comprehensive table that the number of crates marketed each year has grown from 164,188 in 1897 to 541,548 in 1906, a steady increase each year with the exception of 1901 and 1902 when there was a natural falling off from the bumper crop of 1900. The gross receipts to the grower for the ten years is estimated conservatively at $5,734,197. The refrigerator movement for the ten years is estimated at 2,002,264 crates, 8,265 cars from the W. & W. section and 132,657 crates and 5,563 cars from the Chadbourn section. The average loading was 242 crates per car on the W. & W. road and 203 on the Chadbourn line.

In concluding the report Secretary Bauman gives a very comprehensive statement of the invaluable service of the Association in collecting damages from transportation companies for which there was no charge whatever. For the past year alone, the Association collected from the A. C. L. $13,564.20 exclusive of the amounts collected by other means from the Armour Car Lines by the growers themselves.

In closing Secretary Bauman desires to thank all most sincerely for many acts of kindness and courtesy and assures them it has been an inexpressible pleasure to him to have —worked so harmoniously with the Association for the past ten years. He has valued the confidence and trust reposed in him and by giving the Association the best effort he is capable of and the continued endorsement of his service, makes him feel that he has not labored in vain.

Banquet Last Night.

The banquet given last night by the business men of the city, complimentary to the visiting truckers, at the Hotel Tarrymoore, on Wrightsville Beach, is spoken of as a most enjoyable affair indeed. The party went down to the beach on a special car leaving the city at 7 o'clock and returning at the pleasure of the guests. There were about 75 in the party, including many Wilmington business men. Mr. Z. W. Whitehead, editor of the Truckers' Journal, was toastmaster for the occasion and presided with tact and ability. Among the interesting addresses heard during the evening were those by President J. A. Taylor, of the Chamber of Commerce; Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn; President Wm. E. Springer, of the Association; Chairman D. McEachern, of the Board of New Hanover County Commissioners; Mr. Chas. N. Evans, cashier of the Southern National Bank, and Mr. Jno. F. Garrell, a leading real estate owner. The addresses were happy indeed and were listened to with great interest and pleasure.

Mr. D. G. Fowle to Wed.

Friends in this city have received handsomely engraved invitations bearing the following announcement: "Mrs. James Bruer Moore requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of her daughter, Helen Bruer, to Mr. Daniel Gould Fowle on the afternoon of Wednesday the fifth of September, nineteen hundred and six at three o'clock at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Washington, North Carolina."

Another Lumber Deal.

It was learned yesterday that Mr. L. F. Swain had sold his saw mill plant and all fixtures at Brinkley, N. C., to W. T. Sears & Co., of this city, the sale including all the rights to about 3,000 acres of timbered lands of the Carolina Trucking and Development Co., in that section. This purchase connects up the holdings of W. T. Sears & Co., in one continuous line for about eight miles on the south side of the W., C. & A. Railroad.

LITTLE BOY SERIOUSLY HURT.

Run Over On Velocipede by Buggy at Sixth and Castle Streets.

Sam Jones, a little son of Mr. William Jones, formerly a conductor of the Consolidated Company, was run over and severely injured early last night at Sixth and Castle streets, near where the parents live. The little fellow was riding on a velocipede in the streets and Mr. G. W. Blake driving up in a buggy from Sixth street did not see the little fellow until the vehicle was right upon him. The boy's head was run over by the buggy wheel and he suffered a number of very severe cuts. Mr. Blake deplored the accident greatly and assisted the little fellow to Hall's drug store where the patient received attention by Dr. M. M. Caldwell. He was unconscious for several hours and the wounds about his face and head bled profusely. A large crowd collected at the store, hearing that the child had been fatally injured.

BRYAN ENDORSED BY NEBRASKA

His Country Proud of Wave Which is Spreading Over Republic in Favor of His Nomination for the President.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 15.—The Democratic State convention to-day adopted a platform which ignored National issues in the main. It bestows unstinted praise upon Wm. J. Bryan, pointing to him as the leader of the Democrats of the nation. The resolutions say in part:

"We rejoice at the rapid growth in Democratic sentiment throughout the country and appreciate the compliment bestowed upon the party when its principles and doctrines are bodily appropriated by the few progressive leaders of the Republicans. We watch with interest their efforts to force the party to accept Democratic doctrine and we deplore the hoplessness of their task. To their followers, however, we extend a hearty invitation to become Democrats in fact as they are in spirit, and to join the Democratic ranks under the leadership of America's distinguished statesman, William J. Bryan.

"We extend to Mr. Bryan a hearty welcome home. We rejoice that he stands today as a conspicuous and central figure in the great moral and political revolution which is now sweeping over the country. While he has become the first citizen of the world, it remains for our State to boast that it gave him political birth and started him upon the highway of fame and usefulness."

Shortly after midnight the Democratic convention nominated A. C. Shallenberger, of Alma, for Governor.

Testimonial from one of the leading Dentists in North Carolina:

Raleigh, N. C. Jan. 20, 1904.

Mecklenburg Mineral Springs Co., Chase City, Va.:

Gentlemen:—In July last I was very much run down in health from a very severe attack of intestinal indigestion. I could not digest anything. After trying a number of remedies without any beneficial effect, I went to The Mecklenburg, at Chase City, Va., and drank the Calcium Chloride Water for six weeks, returning home completely cured, my blood thoroughly purified. Can now eat anything without hurting me, and weigh more than I ever did in my life.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Negro Preacher Wanted to Buy a Much Delivered Sermon.

Bishop Whitaker of Philadelphia, one of the best story tellers a man could wish to listen to, recently told of a young clergyman whose pastoral charge had fallen to him out in the thinly populated end of a western state. Riding the circuit of his tiny churches, he never imagined that the auditors of one town ever sat under him in another, and so he had been delivering everywhere the same sermon, and it seemed to take well. Just how well that young preacher never guessed until one Sunday he was stopped at the church door by an old negro.

"Pahdon me, suh, fer a moment," he said, with a most respectful bow. "I jus' wan' to say that I sutinly have enjyed dat sermon. De fust time I heard it, suh, I liked it, and de secon' time I liked it better, an' as I been follerin' you aroun' it jus' keep growin' on me like. Now, suh, I's sorter in de preachin' business my own se'f, an' it jus' occurred to me dat you gwine to wear out dat sermon some fine day, an' den I wants to buy it. When you git ready to sell it, suh, I stan' to give you 50 cents."

Told by Depew.

Senator Depew occasionally delves into the capacious and well filled subway of his memory and brings to light something new in the way of an anecdote, says the New York Times. While returning from abroad on his latest trip—which, he says, he hopes will not by any means be his last—he overheard a heated dispute as to the respective merits of America and England. The disputants were a prominent New Yorker and a well known British statesman whose reputation for laconic repartee is international.

"My country," shouted the Yankee, "knows no east, no west, no north, no south!"

"Aw, indeed? What a blawstedly ignorant country!" drawled the Englishman.

He Needed It.

"Amazing are questions," said H. C. King of New York, "that are showered on the unhappy attendants of public museums.

"In London one afternoon I was standing near a museum guardian who wore a military uniform, with a helmet from which a chin strap hung.

"A youth approached the man and said:

"'Would you mind telling me what that strap under your chin is for?'

"'That,' the attendant answered wearily, 'is to rest my jaw when I get tired answering silly questions!'"—New York Tribune.

Wanted the Real Thing.

Dr. Beckwith, whose hobby is the Atlantic City beach patrol and who is in personal charge of that large corps of life savers, was visited in his hospital tent on the beach by an old Cincinnati friend and his seven-year-old daughter. With great enthusiasm the doctor explained his various methods of reviving persons dragged from the water. The little girl listened with wondering eyes. When the doctor stopped, she fairly gasped:

"Oh, papa, I wish somebody would get drown-ded!"—New York Times.

Was Accomplished.

A well known fire insurance man on Cedar street recently canceled an insurance policy of a woman who lives at Esopus, made famous by Judge Parker's residence there, says the New York Herald. The woman was decidedly dissatisfied with his letter, which of course was typewritten.

She replied tersely as follows:

"You are very impertinent. You think you are awful smart. You needn't print your letters, cos I can read writing."

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Fine of $100.00 Imposed for Substituting Labels.

(Special from St. Louis Globe Democrat.)

St. Louis, Aug. 14.—Jacob, alias James Goldgraber, a saloon-keeper of 2300 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., recently indicted by the Grand Jury for using Anheuser-Busch Budweiser labels, taken from empty bottles and putting them on bottles containing beer brewed by other brewers and selling same as Budweiser, was convicted and fined $100 in Judge Moore's court.

The case was vigorously prosecuted by Campbell Cummings and is the first of several similar proceedings in which he will appear for the brewery. The case was begun Monday and continued Tuesday until the jury went out at 3:30 P. M. Within an hour and a half a verdict of guilty was returned against Goldgraber, but Henry Stelman, who was a co-defendant was discharged.

The evidence showed that Goldgraber owns the saloon and that Stelman is employed as a bartender. The contention of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association's attorney was that his client suffered much annoyance and pecuniary loss by the practice of some saloonkeepers of substituting "Budweiser" labels for those of cheaper grades of beer.

ALL STEEL CARS FOR BIG TUNNEL

Pennsylvania Railroad Having Absolute Fire-Proof, Non-Collapsible Cars Build For Service in New York—Safety Cars in Future.

(New York Times, Aug. 13.)

"Al future passenger equipment of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be made of steel. The necessity of providing non-collapsible, absolutely fireproof passenger cars for the New York tunnel has simply hastened the day when this transformation must take place. The car of the future must be as safe as engineering science can make it."

Such was the declaration authorized yesterday by a high official in the motive power department of the Pennsylvania Railroad. It followed the examination of reports which have been made on the cost and performance of the new Pennsylvania coach, No. 1,651, the first all steel passenger cars to be built in the world. The car has been placed temporarily on one of the company's regular local runs, and most minute reports are being made as to its work.

The future passenger equipment is to be of steel, therefore, not only steel frame and box, but steel and non-combustable material in every particular. This will involve a very large expenditure of money, but the management feel that no expense should be spared to remove the danger from fire and collision in future railroading.

All-Steel Sleepers, Too.

The decision, now difinitely reached, will call for 1,000 unburnable railroad company cars to be ready when the New York tunnel is completed. It will also call for some 500 Pullman cars, which must also be of completely non-combustable construction. At the request of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Pullman Company is now building the first all-steel sleeper ever constructed. It will be inspected by the Pennsylvania officials at a very early date.

WOMEN'S FITNESS FOR EDUCATORS

Two Female Colleges In North Carolina With Ladies as President—They Have Succeeded and Are Building Institutions.

(Raleigh News and Observer.)

Every day demonstrates the fitness of women for positions of trust and leadership. A few years ago, upon the resignation of the male president of Greensboro Female College, the trustees elected Mrs. Lucy H. Robertson as president. In times of peculiar difficulties she has succeeded beyond expectations and to-day under her presidency that old institution is enjoying the best prosperity it has known in its history.

Upon the death of the beloved president of Louisburg Female College, the late Prof. Matthew S. Davis, he was succeeded in the presidency by his accomplished daughter, Mrs. Mary Davis Allen, a lady of superior educational and executive capacity. The mantle of the noble father falls upon worthy shoulders.

The sphere of woman is the place where duty calls, and she is always equal to the duty imposed upon her.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Aug. 15.—The cotton market was weak and unsettled to-day with prices making new low record or the season and closing barely steady at a net decline of 17 to 19 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 25,000 bales.

The opening was easy at decline of 5 to 10 points in response to lower cables and favorable weather. There was some covering at the decline and the market had rallies of 2 or 3 points at times during the session but no bull support of consequence developed and the gereral tendency was downward with the lowest points reached in the late trading and the close within a point or two of the bottom which represented a decline of a little over a cent a pound from the high point of July 17th. Late weather reports and forecasts were considered very favorable and while there were some further complaints of damage by shedding and insects the average of crop advices were very favorable. There was talk of increased offerings of actual cotton for early autumn delivery and southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8 lower. Liverpool reported a slight demand from spinners and spot interests were sellers in all markets. Offerings here, however, were considered to be largely for short account, beyond the liquidation of recent buyers for a reaction.

Receipts at the ports to-day, 4,973 bales against 3,099 last week and 6,424 last year. For the week estimated 25,000 against 24,615 last week, and 57,230 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans, 485 bales, against 2,155 last year, and at Houston, 1,470 against 2,838 last year.

Meeting at Harpers Ferry to Agitate Equal Rights.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Harpers Ferry, W. Va., Aug. 15.—With an enthusiastic gathering that filled the large auditorium of Anthony Hall, Storer College, the second annual meeting of the Niagra Movement an organization of negro men and women whose object is to secure full civil and political equality was opened here tonight.

Many well known negroes from various parts of the country occupied seats on the platform. Prof Henry T. McDonald, president of Storer College, in an address said it was fitting for the college to welcome an organiztion which beleived that the human mind shuld be unlimited in its development and that as men made in the image of God, they should have equal rights. He said that within the sound of his voice, there was struck the first blow for universal liberty in America, "a blow pusaulant because struck in the spirit of 'John Brown.'"

CARNIVAL OF MURDER BY BOMB THROWERS

Terrorists Slew 20 Policemen and Soldiers in Warsaw —As Many More Blown to Pieces in Other Cities—Trains Robbed

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—Acting apparently with definite plan and at a signal, the terrorists and the revolutionists to-day inaugurated a carnival of murderous attacks with bombs and revolvers on the police and troops in various cities in Poland, echoes of which are heard from Samara, Ufa, Yalta, Kiev and even as far away as Chita, where Acting Chief of Police Gorpinchenko was slain almost on his own door steps. The revolutionist campaign flamed out with especial virulence at Warsaw where over a score were slain in the streets and many more wounded. Among the killed, according to the latest official advises, were two sergeants of police, eight patrolmen, three gendarmes, five soldiers, a Hebrew merchant and a woman. Policemen and soldiers were shot down like rats on the streets. Their assailants, who traveled in small bands, almost all escaped among the terrorized but sympathetic populace.

Bombs were employed in the attack on the police station of the Volsk precinct in Warsaw, where a sergeant, two patrolmen and a soldier was wounded.

Other Polish cities singled out by the terrorists were Lodz, where six soldiers, three policemen and the wife of a police captain were wounded by the explosion of bombs in the police station and two soldiers and two other persons were killed in the streets; Rodom, where a bomb was thrown into the police station, killing the wife and children of a captain; Vlotslossk, where the chief of police was stabbed; Plok, where at a given signal the policemen on all the posts were simultaneously attacked and several of them wounded.

On account of several attacks on post trains, the railway between Samara and Zlatoust was to-day placed under martial law. Two of these attacks occurred to-day near Ufa, revolutionists in each case flagging a train, bursting open the doors of mail cars with bombs and rifling the registered pouches. The booty in one case amounted to $15,000; in the other case the amount is not known.

Cossacks from Poltava to-day refused to perform police duty at Tiflis. A large number of arrests were made. Details are unobtainable. The Cossack guards were forced to fire, killing five and wounding some of the mob.

Professor George H. Blakeslee, of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., was arrested near Volokamsk yesterday as a suspicous chraracter, although he had certificates of identity from the American consul general, Mr. Smith, of Moscow. He was released by order of the Governor General.

WRECK ON SEABOARD AIR LINE

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 15.—Three men were fatally injured in a collision between a passenger and an east bound freight train on the Seaboard Air Line toinight. The crash occurred an a stretch of track that curves into Race Avenue in Portsmouth, from the South street crossing near the Seaboard yards. Those injured are: Stewart Walters, Colored brakeman, back hurt; Conductor Morris, leg hurt in jumping; Cooke, car inspector, hurt in jumping; William Crowder, nature of injuries unknown.

The cause of the accident is unknown. The passenger train was in charge of E. G. Bowden, an engine hostler, whose duty it was to take the passenger trains back to the shop after they arrive in Portsmouth from the South.

The freight train was in charge of Engineer James Powell. Both trains were heading for the race avenue crossing, and met head-on. One pullman coach and a freight car were completely wrecked.

All of the injured are at King's Daughters Hospital in Portsmouth and it is reported from that institution that one or more of the injured may prove fatal.

NEGRO FIEND IS SURROUNDED.

South Carolina More Than Likely to Have Lynching.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 15.—Bob Davis, the negro who yesterday murBrooks, daughter of a prosperous farmer and merchant near Greenwood, who a short time afterwards criminally assaulted a negro girl 14 years old, in the same neighborhood, is surrounded by a posse of more than a thousand men in a swamp near Ninety Six, Greenwood county.

At 11 o'clock to-night a report was received from Clinton saying that the negro had been lynched, but this was lataer denied by a long distance telephone message from Spartanburg, which stated that the negro would not be captured to-night.

Although Sheriff McCaslin is with the party, it is hardly probable that he will be able to prevent a lynching.

L. & N. DISPATCHERS ON TRIAL.

They Are Charged With Discharging Union Telegraphers.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Brmingham, Ala., Aug. 15.—The preliminary hearing of certain dispatchers of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company who are charged by the Order of Railroad Telegraphers with discharging and discriminating against employes of the road, because they were union men, was begun here to-day before United States Commissioner Wates. The first witness called was L. A. Tanquary, deputy president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, who testified regarding the organization and the requirements for admission. M. B. Eadye testied that he had been employed at Warrior, Ala., as an operator and that he was discharged because he was a member of the union.

Much of the time this afternoon was consumed in argument on technical points and the admissibility of portions of the evidence. The hearing will be continued to-morrow.

Five Deaths Among Old Soldiers at Minneapolis.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 15.—For the fortieth time since their work was finished, the men of the Grand Army of the Republic were in line today. There have been more gorgeous but never in this country has there been a parade more impressive than that which passed through the streets of Minneapolis this forenoon. The old soldiers who to-day were in the ranks that are thinning year by year were greeted at times by cheers that drowned the roar and crash of their many bands and at times they passed through living lanes where many eyes were dim as the onlookers, with heads bared, as the observers watched the grizzled veterans file by. The column was about three hours in passing a given point.

Thomas A. Martin, Senior Vice Commander of the Department of the Potomac, and who is a clerk in the Treasury Department at Washington, became ill while marching in the parade and died while being removed to the Emergency Hospital.

Col. Charles W. Keeting, of New Orleans, for ten years Commander of the Department of Louisiana and Mississippi, after heading their division in the parade to-day, was overcome by the heat and exhaustion and died an hour after reaching a hospital.

The total casulties to date are: Five deaths, eight injured and forty six prostrations.

NEGROES ARE FLEEING.

Whites of Missouri Community Resent Their Outrages.

Whiteside, Mo., Aug. 15.—Following a series of whippings by white persons, the negroes of Silex are selling their property and fleeing. After Saturday night, it is said, any negro found in Silex is to be flogged. The trouble is the outgrowth of a severe whipping which negroes, it is said, gave James Edleman's nine year old son last week. Last Saturday a party of whites, seized the son of Allen and Edward Pearl, negroes, and whipped them. Later Mrs. Pearl was whipped in a warehouse.

Mrs. Esac Didn't Care to Be Pronounced Bughouse.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Mrs. Asi L. Esac, or Elizabeth Case, who was to have been taken to Minola today and given a hearing in lunacy proceedings, growing out of her persistent efforts ot interview the President or Mrs. Roosevelt, has left Oyster Bay. She was virtually given until this afternoon to leave the jurisdiction of the county court. Up to last night she asserted that she would face the inquiry into her sanity. To-day however, she was missing from her boarding house, where it was stated she left last night for New York.

A mixed southbound train on the Franklin and Pittssylvania line of the Southern Railway was derailed at Redwood, Va., early yesterday and the conductor, mail agent and three passengers were injured, none of them fatally. Two cars left the track. The injured were taken to Rocky Mount for treatment. The injuries to the passengers were only slight. The officials o fthe road say that the cause of the accident is not definitely known. Redwood is the terminus of the branch line.

FUGITIVE BANKER SEEN ON TRAIN

President of Chicago's Looted Bank Passed Through Pittsburg Yesterday

OLD FRIEND SPOKE TO HIM

Begged Him for God's Sake Not to Give Him Away—Said He Was Almost Crazy With His Trouble.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 15.—Paul O. Stensland, the defaulting president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank of Chicago, was in Pittsburg to-day and at present is thought to be in the east. Stensland was seen aboard a Pennsylvania Railroad train at the Union Station by Oscar Homer, a mechanical engineer who used to be a close friend of Stensland but had not seen him for two years. Holmer had gone to the station to meet a friend that was on his way east and while talking in the Pullman car his attention was unexpectedly attracted to a man seated near. In telling of the incident Holmer said to-day:

"I walked up to him and said, 'Hullo, Stensland, what are you doing here?'

"'For God's sake,' he said, 'is it you? Don't give me away"

"I told him he and his affairs were not my business and we started to talk. He said he supposed I knew all about his trouble and declared he was most out of his mind with worry. He did not say where he had been but I know he has been in Canada because he and I were at a place across the Lake from Sodus Point, near Rochester, some years ago. and he was delighted with his sojourn. He told me he was going east and said he had plenty of money. As we were talking the train started off. Mr. friend who came from Rochester via. Buffalo, told me the man whom I recognized had been on the train from that city and they had talked together."

The train left at 8 A. M.

"The Chronicle-Telegraph to-night is authority for the above statement that Paul O. Stensland, the defaulting presiuent of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank of Chicago was in this city to-day and is now thought to be in the east.

"Captain of Detectives Egan to-night said he had heard nothing of Stensland passing through here and was indignant that Holmer had not reported the incident to the Police. The police have taken no action in the matter.

Litigation Over Receiver.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—The directors of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank today repudiated the Chicago Title and Trust Company as receiver and took action to have Judge Gibbons appointment of the company as receiver set aside as illegal. All the directors except the Steslands were present at the meeting and a sentiment was unanimous in favor of supporting Receiver John C. Fetzer.
